The DeZavala-Shavano Veterinary Clinic ("Clinic") may take in canines and felines for adoption according to the following guidelines:

1. Person ("Owner") leaving the canine/feline ("Pet") is the legal owner of said Pet and has authority to release ownership to the Clinic.
2. Pet to be released must be free of obvious disease or injury and have a good disposition.
3. Owner acknowledges that the Pet has not bitten, scratched or caused injury to any person or animal in the past 15 days.
4. Owner leaving the Pet must pay for at least three (3) days of regular boarding on a space available basis.
5. Owner acknowledges that certain diseases may not have been previously diagnosed and agrees to pay for treatment of any medical problems that may be determined while the Pet is in the care of the Clinic or otherwise take the Pet back into his/her custody.
6. The Clinic will board the Pet for three (3) days and attempt to adopt the Pet out. On the third day, the Owner has the option to pick up the Pet, pay for more boarding, or allow the Pet to become the property of the Clinic at which time the Pet may remain available for adoption or be euthanized at the Clinic's option and expense. If on the third day no further instructions are received IN WRITING from the Owner regarding disposition of the Pet, the Pet will become the property of the Clinic and stated options become effective.
7. Should the Owner decide at any time to take back custody of the Pet, no reimbursement of the Release for Adoption fee will be made as Clinic resources and services have already been invested in the Pet.

I have read and agree to the above conditions for Release Pet Ownership.
